

02 82% of Americans believe small businesses positively impact people's lives

Which of the following best describes the impact small businesses have on people's lives?

“Americans have always had a deeply ingrained respect and affection for the hard-working small business owner. We see them as people and families in a different way than we see large, anonymous corporations. Small businesses are often referred to as engines of growth. They create jobs and they create communities.”

Linda Edelman
Professor of Management
Bentley University